Third Edition
Guide to funding opportunities for the international mobility of artists and culture professionals: AFRICA

Suggestions for reading this guide:
We recommend that you download the guide and open it using Acrobat Reader. You can then click on the web links and consult the funding schemes and resources. Alternatively, you can also copy and paste the web links of the schemes/resources that interest you in your browser’s URL field.

This guide being long, we advise you not to print it, especially since all resources are web-based.

Thank you!
This Cultural Mobility Funding Guide presents a mapping of funding opportunities for international cultural mobility, focused on the African continent.

The main objective of this cultural mobility funding guide is to provide an overview of the funding bodies and programmes that support the international mobility of artists and cultural operators from Africa and travelling to Africa. It also aims to provide input for funders and policy makers on how to fill the existing gaps in funding for international cultural exchange.

The third edition of this guide, supported by the Institut français, (the first edition was supported by Korea Arts Management Service and the second by the British Council) is modelled on the Guides to funding opportunities for the international mobility of artists and culture professionals in Europe, Asia, the Arab Region, Latin and Central America and the USA.\(^1\) You can refer to the methodology of these guides in the document “How to read the cultural mobility funding guides (PDF),”\(^2\) included in the European and Asian guides, which were the first of the series.

In the Africa guide you will find funding opportunities relevant to most artistic and cultural disciplines, classified by types of funding organisations. The list includes only regular funding opportunities, whose terms and application procedures are accessible online, and that cover travel costs (partially or completely).

This guide – whose information was mostly compiled between September-November 2019 by Lara Bourdin, Head of Research for Art Moves Africa (AMA), in close collaboration with Marie Le Sourd from On the Move (OTM) and thanks to the support of the Institut français – is an attempt to gather all the resources in one document. It draws on extensive online research as well as on previously completed studies: namely, AMA’s studies on mobility and touring in East Africa (2011, 2012), Central Africa (2015) and North Africa (2019), and the Cultural Mobility Funding Guide – Focus on the 13 Arab Countries (by the Arab Education Forum with OTM via the support of the MedCulture programme).\(^3\)

While the guide aims to provide a comprehensive overview of funding opportunities for mobility to/from Africa, it is by no means exhaustive for the following main reasons:

- Funding schemes are regularly subject to change, which may render some information outdated. This is particularly the case for international/regional funding schemes affected by budget cuts, policy changes etc.;
- Some potential funding opportunities could not be identified due to the lack of consistent information available online;
- Most African countries lack national regular funding schemes supporting artists’ mobility, which makes the information highly challenging to identify.

   http://on-the-move.org/funding/arabcountries/
The information is organised as follows:

1) African organisations and funding bodies (where South Africa is one of the countries most represented in terms of funding schemes),

2) International organisations with an African focus (where French-speaking countries/“Francophone” countries and the MENA region are the most covered regions in terms of cultural mobility funding support),

3) Global South-focused organisations (where Africa is one of the world regions covered, usually with Latin America and Asia),

4) Bilateral and multi-lateral cooperation schemes (in particular with countries such as France and Germany but also regional entities like the European Union),

5) International prizes, residencies and other support schemes (this part has been added to open the scope of opportunities for African artists and cultural professionals, as funding possibilities specifically targeting them are rather limited),

6) Resources (this section offers tips and advice for African artists and cultural professionals seeking mobility funding and identifies information platforms relevant for the African cultural sector as well as additional funding organisations that do not meet the selection criteria relevant for the cultural mobility funding guide).

We aim to update this guide on a regular basis through further research and input from the field. Your feedback is therefore crucial. You can send your comments, suggestions and corrections to: mobility@on-the-move.org.

A French version of the Africa Cultural Mobility Funding guide is also available thanks to the support of the Institut français.

Art Moves Africa

Art Moves Africa (AMA) is an international not-for-profit organisation that aims to facilitate cultural and artistic exchanges within the African continent. AMA offers travel grants to artists, arts professionals and cultural operators living and working in Africa to travel within the African continent in order to engage in the exchange of information, the enhancement of skills, the development of informal networks, and the pursuit of cooperation.

AMA is also active as a research body and as a purveyor of information on cultural mobility opportunities for African cultural professionals. It conducts regular studies on cultural mobility and touring in the various African regions, administers the Mobility Hub Africa (an information platform on the arts and culture in Africa), and shares mobility opportunities through its Facebook page.

AMA is funded by the Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Institut français

The Institut français: French soft power

The Institut français is a public institution responsible for French cultural actions abroad. Its initiatives cover various artistic fields, intellectual exchanges, cultural and social innovation, and linguistic cooperation. Throughout the world, it promotes the French language, as well as its mobility of artworks, artists and ideas, and thus works to foster cultural understanding.

The Institut français, under the aegis of the French Ministry for Europe and Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Culture, actively contributes to France’s soft diplomacy. Its projects and programs take local contexts into account and can be successfully implemented thanks to the vast network of the French Embassies’ cultural services, as well as the many Instituts français and Alliances Françaises present across five continents.
France seeks to expand its influence in Africa,
as well as in other regions such as the Southern and Eastern shores of the Mediterranean, Europe and many other leading and emerging countries, where French cultural diplomacy has an important role to play.

On the Move

On the Move (OTM) aims to facilitate cross-border mobility in the arts and culture sector, contributing to the building of a vibrant European shared cultural space that is strongly connected internationally. OTM shares information on cultural mobility opportunities and funding on a free and regular basis, through its website, monthly e-newsletters and social media platforms; co-produces free guides and toolkits on cultural mobility and related topics; tackles cultural mobility challenges (e.g., visas, administrative and environmental issues) through reports and meetings, and occasionally co-organises training and events for its members and associated partners.

On the Move is funded by the Ministry of Culture
France, as well as through projects’ partnerships with European networks and/or local, national, International agencies and organisations (including the Institut français).

6. RESOURCES

6.1 Tips for artists and cultural professionals

1. Make sure that you always read the guidelines carefully before getting in touch with the organisation you are interested in (for funding, advice etc.)

2. Contact local branches of European/international cultural institutes (British Council, Institut Français, etc.) directly. They may run their own funding schemes and/or provide support for specific projects.

3. Inquire with national government agencies (arts councils, lottery funds, film commissions, etc.) and municipalities. Funding schemes may exist even if they are not online or publicly shared.

4. Contact embassies, consulates and European Commission delegations. They may run their own support schemes and/or provide advice for specific projects.

5. Contact festivals/event promoters directly. They may provide assistance with funding and/or travel logistics.

6. Contact art centres and residencies directly. Some may offer support with funding research. See list below for art centres that have been cited by artists as funding providers in the past. Also listed are art centres that belong to the Triangle Network, which may provide funding/other forms of support (administrative for instance) for projects and residencies.

7. Check billboards at local art centres. Funding opportunities are often advertised locally through art hubs. See the list below.

8. Co-financing: Be aware that an increasing number of funding organisations do not accept being the sole funder/supporter for projects and therefore require that applicants search for additional funding partners. Diversity of funding sources is always an added value to a well-defined project proposal.

9. Think in terms of partnerships. Funding bodies increasingly prefer to be associated with a project as partners, rather than being approached once the project is almost finalised.

10. Many European cultural centres and festivals play an important role in supporting African artists’ mobility towards Europe, through co-productions or programming. However, these initiatives are increasingly confronted with challenges linked to budget and visa restrictions. See Section 6.6 below for information about organisations that are working to support artists in navigating these increasing restrictions.
6.2 Potential other sources of funding: Africa

6.2.1 PUBLIC AND PRIVATE ORGANISATIONS

The organisations below offer funding for cultural projects, or have offered funding in the past. However, these funds may not be offered on a regular basis for mobility-related projects and/or are not advertised online.

BENIN CULTURE FUND

AFRICAN ARTISTS FOR DEVELOPMENT (FRANCE)

DESCRIPTION
African Artists for Development (AAD) started with a deep-seated conviction: contemporary African artists’ commitment to development projects is one of the best ways to secure a better future for the continent. AAD provides the impetus and financing necessary for the maturation and consolidation of development projects and related art initiatives, but always rejects those limited to mere handouts. AAD projects are intended for the short/medium term; the point is to catalyse actions, not operate them as such.

NOTES
No information is available on their funding schemes, but they have supported a number of projects in Africa.

ZONE FRANCHE – ARTISTS’ VISAS COMMITTEE

DESCRIPTION
The Artist’s Visas Committee was implemented in 2009 to respond to the growing difficulties professionals of the music industry working at an international level were facing to grant visas. The Committee aims to resolve deadlocks and support professionals in the music industry when they struggle to obtain visas.

The page includes information on the committee and its work, as well as a practical guide to obtaining visas.
